It is reported at Hardinsburg that a number of the wealthy taxpayers of that vicinity have given a big bond for the purpose of indemnifying the county against loss, should the Magistrates refuse to levy the tax to pay the interest on the railroad bonds voted to McCracken & Co. Some time ago McCracken & Co., obtained a judgment against Hardinsburg and a part of the Rough Creek districts in the Federal Court at Louisville, for the money, but now it is said the case is to be carried to the Supreme Court of the United States by the defendants, and the citizens want the Magistrates to withhold their action in making a levy until the matter is determined there.

THE Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners held a meeting at Frankfort last week to make some disposition of the convicts, now that the Mason-Ford company lease is about to expire. Attorney General Hendrick offered a resolution providing that the Legislature be called upon to frame a law providing for working the convicts on the public roads of the State. The suggestion is not out of order. If such a move would result in giving us better roads, it ought to be adopted.

THE County Levy Court is in session at Hardinsburg this week. This body should appoint a responsible man to attend the Good-Roads Convention which meets at Bowling Green on the 14th of this month. The subject of bettering the road system in this State is one that is just now attracting general attention, and Breckenridge should not be left out. Let us interest ourselves more on the question of good roads for our county.

Is there anything in a name. Well we shall see. There is a Democratic club in this county called the Carlisle club named after the distinguished Kentuckian John G. Carlisle. Parties hereabout wanting some of the public pie should not fail to call the attention of the Secretary of the Treasury to this fact when they visit Washington.

Ir a young man would use the same amount of energy, push and economy here at home that he does in Florida or any other State he could accomplish just as much. The chances for making money are just as good in Kentucky as any other State in the Union. Get down to business and keep everlastingly at it and you'll win.

A. R. Surroy a prominent whisky dealer of Louisville, has been locked up on the charge of forgery. He is said to banks out of large sums by forging receipts. He was a prominent main-street whisky dealer, and had the confidence of the public for many years.

JUDGE John Allen Murray, Hon. Will Miller and Hon, D. H. Severs were appointed delegates to represent this county at the Road Convention, which meets at Bowling Green next Wednesday. This is the initial step towards good roads in Breckenridge, be it said to the credit of the county court.

THEY say now that the calls on the President have become so numerous that the cranks have fallen in line. Two of them called at the White House last week and had to be ushered off in a hurry. Cleveland should beware of cranks. It was a crank that tackled Garfield.

THE fight for the Collectorship in the Owensboro district is still going on quietly at Washington. Fletcher Dempsey called on Mr. Carlisle last week, but got nothing direct as to when the appointment would be made. Congressman Ellis is endorsing Mr. Dempsey.

Dr. Cottrell is a great preacher. Hi sermon last Sunday night was grand, peculiar to Dr. Cottrell, 'tis true, but nevertheless there was a world of truth and religion in what he said.

Ir is said that the Owensboro Messenger actually had the Times, April fool joke "set up" and ready to "go in" when one of the office boys caught on to that last remark.

Cor., Gus. Richardson, of Meade county, failing to get the United States Marshal's place for Kentucky, has now filed his application for the position of Revenue Agent.

MasterFranklin, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Beard, died at their home in this place, last Tuesday. On the day before the little fellow was alone in the room, and getting hold of a match, struck it, igniting his clothes. The flames covered his head and face in an instant, and the burns caused his death the next day. The child was considered rather bright for his age and the sad occurence brought great grief upon his fond parents and brothers and sisters.

But the ge tleman is not grieving over trivial matters, for that baby is such a rainbow of promise that he views the world through rose-tinted glasses entirely. Miss Lida Powell's class of little girls have formed themselves into a society of 'Willing Workers," to meet once a month and sew. They have made quite a nice quilt and are now making aprons. The proceeds of this little society will go towards putting a pavement before the Baptist church. Some persons have their gardens planted, while others are just ploughing. If the ground continues warm and vegetation booms, the early gardener is the smart man. Vice versa, the late gardener crows over his neighbor and says, "What did I tell you?" Just so in everything in life. Trust to luck and the lucky man is the one you hear from. The other poor fellow is no longer a shining member but luckless. I do hate to give up our best people,people of our own kind. It makes me 'sorter" mad at Owensboro because Hon. Chapeze Wathen has located there to practice his profession, and still "madder" when I know his sweet and charming wife will, sooner or later, join him. But, a young, ambitious, professional man with Mr. Wathen's qualifications will naturally seek wider fields and more lucrative points.

The correspondents of the Messenger are putting forth their best reportorial efforts for the fifty dollar prize. They are writing good letters too, and such newsy ones. My old friend and neighbor, (Big Spring) "H. W. J.," seems to be given the precedence. He is original, witty, and spicy. He knows how to make a hit with his vein of humor, and again, he can be as pathetic as Tupper. So you correspondents look to your lau-

Children have always played with Easter eggs, so that Easter means to them colored eggs. Do the children know that in some countries the hare is as important as the egg? I think it is more expressive, don't you, for one is a living thing and the other lifeless? Do you know the moon governs Easter, and ushers in the opening life of Spring, hence the hare, or rabbit, became connected with your Easter? Little children all over Europe think the rabbit lays their Easter eggs. Tell mamma to hunt up the pretty myth and read it to you.

This is Good Friday, a day observed all over the world by the Catholics and Episcopalians as the anniversary of the death of our Saviour. In some places the commercial, as well as religious circles, hold it sacred. The schools in many places close, and it seems that each successive year more attention is paid to the day. The sequel of to-day's rites awaits us. On Sunday—the resurrection of our blessed
